

Sonnet #1

"This teacher shares more than his art,
for during the crafting of these bows
the seed of passion starts to grow
and takes root firmly in the heart.

This gracious lady, for her part,
did unto our Barony bestow
a bevy of trims for those who sew
to give our Gold Key a new start.

For deeds done without expectation
of any laud, rewards or favor,
we wish to give this recognition
as applause for your endeavor.

Edward and Diana, know our appreciation.
Your friendship is the true gift we savor."

Presented to Edward the Grey and Lady Diana at A Shoote in the Wildwoode on Sept 1st, 2007.
